GLBL 296: Global Studies Seminar
Culture and Economics of Education in India

This course provides a critical evaluation of the impact of globalization on the education sector in India. Students will learn about the commercialization of education and how it has overtaken the traditional forms of cultural & identity empowerment bestowed on educated Indians. The focus of the course will be on the technical, medical and business schools in India. Students will explore the issues of educated unemployed, disconnect between theoretical and applied knowledge, brain-drain & corruption and how these could impact the global competitiveness of the Indian economy.

Spring 2015, Term B (second 8 weeks), Wednesday, 6pm to 7:20pm, 1057 Lincoln Hall
